"Recommended Reference Component"

- The RPM 10 Carbon exhibited Pro-Ject's even hand, and their careful mission statement of accurately reproducing music without editorializing on it.
- the most endearing quality of the RPM 10 Carbon was the way it imbued music with weight and power.
- I was blown away by the depth and control the RPM 10 Carbon dredged up.
- Huge depth and planet-spinning control emanate from this turntable. Its ability to wrap the music around its little finger absolutely transfixed me.
- I could feel the RPM 10 Carbon quietly sitting back, an impassive, unmoving anvil on which the cartridge can ply its extraction of nano-level information from the groove.
- The music had whatever character it had on the recording.
- The RPM 10 Carbon was able to untangle such complicated music without mush or confusion.
- It was more of a feeling of a larger acoustic and instruments of bigger, more realistic apparent size.
- I've found the love of my audiophile life. If you're still looking for yours, do not ignore this turntable.
